

2022-09-26: New Productiv UI experience

2 months ago · Updated

Follow

Productiv's UI plays a critical role in helping you achieve cross-functional alignment and driving business outcomes. Over the last few months, our Product, Design, and Engineering teams have been working hard to improve the overall Productiv UI experience. The all-new release of the Productiv UI, rolling out the week of September 26, 2022, represents a new look and feel that we hope will delight our customers.

It includes:

- New look and feel across ALL pages (fonts, colors, charts, tables)
- Updated left navigation
- Improved search experience
- Better layout and discovery:
 - The Dashboard expands to 3 columns, for better information visibility
 - App Overview: Puts meaningful information right at your fingertips
 - App Portfolio pages enable you to create custom app portfolio views and share them with stakeholders
 - The Productiv AppCenter provides a modern end user experience
- Our new Connector Library presents all available connectors in one place, track connector issues with a single click, and request new connectors -- all from the same page.

This release is the first in what will be a series of usability upgrades, but most interactions in this release will feel familiar, and consistent with current functionality.

Join the product launch webinar on Wednesday, 10/5

To learn more about the new UI design, along with many other capabilities shipping recently, please join the product launch webinar on Wednesday, 10/5.

See video overviews of all new features

Our Customer Success videographer has created short videos that capture all aspects of these first changes. Enjoy them here:

- The New UI
- App Screen Overview
- App List View
- Connector Library
- App Center

Was this article helpful?

Yes No

0 out of 0 found this helpful

Have more questions? Submit a request